NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

A NUMBER OF PEOPLE FATALLY IN-JURED IN PITTSBURG.

Hotel and Theater Blown Up and Set on Fire—Several Already Dead From Their Injuries—A List of the Dead and Injured—How the Accident Occurred.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—At 10:15 o'clock this morning a natural gas explosion of unusual severity occurred in a trench adjacent to the Albermarle hotel, corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street. Workmen were engaged in connecting a service pipe of the People's Gas company with that of the Pennsylvania company. The gas had been permitted to escape for half an hour and had permeated the cellar and a portion of the first floor of the Albermarle hotel. A fire was burning a short distance from the trench, melting solder for connecting the pipe. A breath of air carried the gas to the flame, when first came a puff, then a frightful crash and a burst of flame from the hotel cellar, and several store rooms on the first floor. A general alarm was turned in and the fire and police departments instantly responded.

As soon as it became known that a number of people were injured the scene in the vicinity of the hotel became one of wild confusion.

The flames were soon under control, but not until D. T. Reed's storeroom, nearest the scene of the explosion, had been completely gutted. The magnificent entrance to the Bijou theater, on Sixth street, was totally wrecked, but the theater proper was not injured. The contents of the upholstery store of Holtzman & Co., recently burned out in the Masonic hall fire, were blown almost bodily into the street. The interior of the hotel saloon is also wrecked, and almost every plate glass window within the square was shattered. The sidewalk in front of the hotel was upheaved and the immense flagstones crushed. A number of pedestrians on Sixth street were prostrated by the concussion and slightly injured by flying debris.

A list of the killed and injured, as near as can be learned at this hour, is as follows:

Colored man, name unknown, removed to Homeopathic hospital, fatally burned.

Four customers in Davis surgical instrument store were blown into the street. They were severely burned, and were being cared for at Jackson's livery stable.

Joe Geodens, laborer, lives at No. 4 Wylie avenue, horribly burned and will die.

John Fleick, cut about head and internally hurt, is in a critical condition.

George Fleick blown up against the ceiling of Davis' store, knocked insensible; will recover.

J. Ranbetschke, proprietor of the Albermarle cigar stand, slightly hurt.

Leon M. Kucharski, employed at Davis' store, severely injured.

Jacob Dengie, laborer, lives at Wood's run, leg broken, arm crushed, injured internally, and will die.

M. Montbirdis, an Italian laborer, resides at No. 2 Washington street, burned severely, but will recover.

It is reported that another injured man, name unknown, has just died.

An estimate of the damage places the total loss at about $20,000.

He Wants Liberty or Death.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 20.—Macey Warner was on trial here yesterday for the murder of Frank Harris. The prisoner, who is the most desperate character in the vicinity, said when the judge charged the jury:
"Your honor, and gentlemen of the jury, when I was fifteen years of age I was sent to the house of refuge. From there I escaped and returned to Indianapolis, and a policeman attempted to arrest me and I shot him. For this I served five years at Michigan City. When released I was employed by a commission house in Indianapolis and was sent to Vincennes to assist in shipping poultry. While there a saloon keeper put me out of the house, followed me into the street and struck me. I shot him dead and was sent to the prison in this city for twenty-one years. Frank Harris insulted me and I cut his throat with a shoe knife. I do not want to go to prison for life, and desire you to either acquit me or bring in a verdict of death." The jury has not yet returned a verdict.

Graham to Go Over Niagara Falls.

BUFFALO, Oct. 20.—Carlisle D. Graham, the hero of the Niagara whirlpool rapids, is soon to attempt a more desperate feat than any yet seen at the falls. The encouragement to do it was given by a New York man, who offers to bet $2,000 that Mr. Graham can go over the cataract and come out alive. The New Yorker says that Graham is not a foolhardy, but a scientific fellow, and takes great stock in him. Some device, which is now a secret, will be used.

Indiana Masons' Election.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—The annual meeting of the Royal and Select Masons of Indiana held here elected the following officers: Illustrious grand master, Henry W. Mord-land, Fort Wayne; deputy I. G. M., George S. Jones, Covington; grand illustrious master, O. B. Sargent, Logansport; principal conductor of work, C. W. Sliet, Mishawau-kee; captain of guard, Theodore P. Brown, Crawfordsville; treasurer, Martin H. Rice; recorder, John M. Bromwell.

A $360,000 Fire.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Fire last night destroyed Barnay & Lambley's large store, George C. Young's dry goods store, and Everson & Co.'s hardware store on South Salina street. The total loss is between $360,000 and $400,000; insurance about $250,000. Wisting's opera house had a narrow escape, and Fritz Emmett had to give up his performance.

A $1,400 Haul.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20.—The organized band of incendiaries and robbers who have infested this city for some time forced the safe of A. N. Smith, at Newcomb, last night, and got $1,400. They have stolen and destroyed $5,000 worth of property in the last three days.

STATUE OF GENERAL MEADE.

The Unveiling Ceremonies Take Place in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia.

GEN. MEADE'S STATUE.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—In the presence of a large concourse of people, among whom were numbered many of Philadelphia's most prominent citizens, and distinguished public men of the state and Nation, the bronze equestrian statue of Gen. George Gordon Meade, erected in Fairmount park, was unveiled yesterday afternoon with appropriate pomp and ceremony.

As to-day is the beginning of the convention of the Loyal Legion in this city, leading military men, who had arrived from all parts of the country, availed themselves of the opportunity of paying homage to the memory of the dead hero. A grand military parade, which proved one of the most imposing demonstrations of the kind ever given in the city, formed at Broad and Spring Garden streets, and marched to the monument in the park, where the unveiling ceremonies took place.

The memorial, which takes the shape of a bronze equestrian statue, is the work of the sculptor A. M. Calder. It is of heroic size, and is mounted on a pedestal of rough granite about twenty feet in height. The statue represents Gen. Meade reining in his horse sharply on the slope of a hill, while, hat in hand, he is returning a salute. The design is a spirited one, and the likeness is striking.
Maj. Gen. John Gibbons, United States army, delivered the oration.

Blaine to Prolong His Trip.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A cablegram to the News from Paris says: Unless the winter breaks early and severely Mr. Blaine will remain in Paris another month at least, so he himself announced yesterday. This will extend his visit long beyond what he intended to make it, and probably keep him from Berlin until spring. He is deeply interested in the political play going on in New York, and is one of the earliest and most exhaustive readers of the daily American papers. Mr. Blaine regards the Henry George movement as one pregnant with promise for Republican success, both in the approaching election and the succeeding one for president. If the Republicans can only retain their hold on George, and George can keep his machine together, Mr. Blaine is of the belief that any one of four Republicans who have been prominently named for the presidency can carry New York state.
From another source I have it that the request has gone across the water from Mr.
Blaine that his (Blaine's) New York friends turn to with a will and make themselves conspicuous among the supporters of Fred.
Grant, with a view to healing, if possible, the Republican disagreements in that state.
Mr. Blaine's idea is that harmonious effort among the Republicans of New York is desperately essential, and he has come around to the policy of taking the initiative.

Trying to Have a $20,800 Fine Reduced.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 20.—A petition has been forwarded to Governor Morton, asking that the sentence of seventeen years and $20,800 fine passed upon J. W. Stewart, the drug clerk, for selling beer be reduced to six months imprisonment. The petition was signed by most of the prominent Republicans. Col. Hallows, by whom the prosecution was conducted, indorsed it, but contended that the entire fine should be collected. There is no doubt that this action was taken by the Republican leaders out of fear that their ticket was in jeopardy.
There are to-day more saloons in this city than before the recent raid, and but little effort is now being made or will be to close them until after the fall election.

A Claw Discovered.

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 20.—Suspicion now points strongly to a colored man named Rawlins as the murderer of Mrs. Moore. He was in the employ of her son-in-law, and knew that the money was in the house at the time of the murder. Footmarks leading to the brook where the murderer washed himself, correspond in size to Rawlins' feet.
The suspected man disappeared on the day of the murder and has not since been seen.
Large parties of armed and desperate men are scouring the country after him, and if caught he will be lynched, guilty or innocent.

"Blinky's" Case Growing Serious.

RAVENNA, O., Oct. 20.—When court opened and the "Blinky" Morgan case was resumed this morning, Conductor Ohliger, who had charge of the Cleveland & Pittsburg train on which Detective Hurligan was murdered, testified that he saw Morgan on his train before reaching Ravenna, and identified the prisoner as being one of three men who rescued McMunn. Ohliger was also positive that Morgan is the man who used the coupling pin with such deadly effect upon the unfortunate detective.

A Big Strike in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—District Assembly No. 70, Knights of Labor, yesterday declared a strike among the 5,000 workers in the twenty-two shops of the Shoemakers' association. The men quit work at 5 o'clock.
A rumor had gained currency that the manufacturers intended to lock out the men to-day and the strike was declared in order to anticipate such a move.

Father Killed Dead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Rev. Father Kirner, pastor of the church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, who was buried in the ruins of the school house which he was building, when it fell, on Monday afternoon, died this morning at St. Francis hospital.

NEARING ADJOURNMENT.

THE GENERAL SESSION OF THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Talk of Impeaching Bailey and Barry.
Powderly's Attitude Toward the Cigarmaker Sustained—Morrison Declared to Be Without Standing—Notes.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 20.—Less animation than usual characterized the opening of yesterday's session of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor. The opposition was not disposed to be demonstrative over the alleged victory of yesterday afternoon; but acted as though it were not entirely sure that the administration had played all of its cards, while those on the other side, though undoubtedly smarting over the failure of their plans, put on a smiling face and talked of the result as a vindication of Powderly and his associates.

Just before the session was opened and the doors closed it was whispered that the administration would return to the attack to-day with a resolution impeaching Messrs.
Bailey and Barry on the charges of insubordination and hostility to the material interests of the order. What truth, if any, there is in the rumor will probably be developed in the course of to-day, and if nothing is done in this direction before night it can be taken for granted that the administration has made up its mind to make the best of the situation for another year. At the same time it is apparent that the breach between the two factions has been widened by the events of yesterday, and that, if they are not disturbed in their positions, both Bailey and Barry will continue to be a thorn in the flesh of their colleagues on the executive board.

The committee on appeals and grievances held another meeting last night for the purpose of endeavoring to arrive at an amicable report upon the appeal for reinstatement of District Assembly 136, of New York. A second attempt was made by John Morrison to induce the body to give ear to his statement of the case without success, the committee holding to its decision that by his own acts he has put himself outside the pale of the order, he has no locus standi even as counsel or special pleader. The matter will be reached in the general assembly this afternoon or to-morrow, and the reinstatement will be vigorously fought, and as vigorously advocated, with the chances against the New Yorkers.

Another matter which is likely to give rise to a lengthy debate is the report of the committee upon the state of the order, sustaining the general master workman in his opinion that the resolution adopted at the Richmond convention, declaring that all cigarmakers who are members of the International union and also of the Knights of Labor must leave one or the other of the organizations, is unconstitutional. This resolution was passed at the instance of District Assembly 49, of New York, of Home club fame, and the report of the committee will be attacked tooth and nail, not only by the delegates from that assembly but by several others from different parts of the country.

At this morning's session several delegates, speaking to a question of privilege, commented upon the manner in which the time of the convention was being wasted and urged that the business remaining on hand should be speedily disposed of. Delegate Wheat, of Iowa, moved that an adjournment sine die take place at the close of to-morrow morning's session, and that all speeches be limited to three minutes. The proposition to adjourn was strongly opposed by George Schilling, of Chicago, who claimed that it was intended to choke off several important matters which it had been impossible, so far, to bring forward. The Chicago radical was heavily sat down upon, however, on a call of the roll, and the resolution was adopted.

A report from the committee on strikes and boycotts, preferring charges against Park Brothers, Black Diamond Steel works, of Pittsburgh; Perry & White, broom manufacturers, of Urbana, O., and the American Tube and Iron works, of Youngstown, O., was referred to the general executive board with power to act. An amendment to the constitution was adopted making it compulsory on all locals to attach themselves or become attached to a state, district or National trades assembly. This was a defeat for the advocates of independent trades unions. It was decided that hereafter the committee on credentials should meet two days before the opening of the general assembly instead of four, that all contests should be in twenty days to secure attention, and that hereafter the mileage of the delegates should be fixed peremptorily at four cents per mile.

Just as the assembly was about to take a recess for dinner a large and elegantly framed portrait of the general master was brought in, and in a feeling speech Mrs.
Leonora Barry intrusted it to Mr. Pow-derly's care as a present from the assembly to his wife. Mr. Powderly endeavored to respond, but after standing for several moments was compelled, by the rush of emotion, to sit down without saying a word, and General Secretary Litchman made an appropriate speech of thanks in his stead.

anem won in 2:43, Grisette coming in five lengths behind.

Escape of a Bald-Knocker.

FORSYTHE, Mo., Oct. 20.—George W.
Middleton, one of the Bald-Knocker gang, under sentence of fifteen years in the penitentiary for murder, has escaped and is still at large.

Death of a Well Known Politician.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—W. Elwood Rowan, ex-sheriff and a well known politician, died in this city at 8:15 a. m.

AFTER THE "WHITE CAPS."

Efforts Being Made to Bring Their Actions to the Federal Courts.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—There is a rumor abroad that the depredations of the "White Caps" of Southern Indiana will be brought before the Federal grand jury, which convenes on Monday.

All efforts to convict the outlaws at their own homes have proved futile, for the reason that in nearly all the counties where they operate they have control of the courts, and it is well known that during the last month an effort has been made to get the cases in the United States court.

Governor Gray and District Attorney Sellers were recently in consultation about the proposed investigation, and the governor, in the strongest terms, urged that the Federal court take up the cases if there was any section of the law under which it could be done. The statutes were carefully examined by the two and one old section was found providing for the punishment of Ku-Klux in the south, under which it is believed the outlaws can be tried. If any doubt should arise about the constitution-ality of that section there are other sections covering the cases of the "White Caps," and there seems to be no doubt about the Federal government having the power to administer the law in the case.

The law abiding people in the counties where the depredations have been most frequent are anxious that the Federal laws should give them protection, and have volunteered to give the district attorney all the assistance in their power, both in securing evidence for indictments and for conviction.

The Federal officials have nothing to say about what will be done, but there is ground for belief that witnesses from the complaining counties will be summoned to appear before the grand jury next week.

Death of William E. Rowan.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Ex-Sheriff William E. Rowan, who died at his residence at West Philadelphia this morning, was elected sheriff in November, 1885.
Shortly after assuming the duties of his office his friends noticed symptoms of mental disorder. On October 22, 1886, Mr.
Rowan was found on Broad street, standing on the Reading railroad tracks gesticulating to an imaginary assemblage and demanding the $1,000,000 which he claimed was due him. A few days later he was removed to an asylum. On February 18 the governor removed him from office. He began to fail about two weeks ago and continued to grow weaker until this morning when he died.

Iowa Odd Fellows.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 20.—The grand encampment of Odd Fellows convened here yesterday morning, with the following officers present: Grand patriarch, W. J. Moir, Eldora; grand high priest, R. S. Tilton, Ottumwa; grand senior warden, W. B. Temple, Atlantic; grand junior warden, Louis Sultz, Des Moines; grand scribe, William Garrett, Burlington; grand treasurer, Thomas Evans, Fairfield. Reports of officers show the order to be in good, healthy and financial state. Grand lodge will hold its first session to-day. Representatives from 471 lodges, representing a membership of over twenty-two thousand, will be present.

Narrow Escape From Railway Horror.

BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 20.—What came near proving a disastrous accident occurred on the Vandalia, at Harmony yesterday afternoon. A train of empty coal flats was on the main track, but was switching to get out of the way of the east bound through passenger train. The usual precautions were taken, but in the fog and darkness they were not observed. The passenger train crashed into the coal flats at a high rate of speed. Several of the cars were knocked off the track. The engineer and fireman jumped, and thus escaped injury.
It is remarkable that no one was seriously hurt, as the passenger train was crowded.

Quieting the Miners.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20.—Richard F.
Trevellick, of this city, the noted lecturer of the Knights of Labor, is back from Minneapolis and left to-day for the Pennsylvania coke fields. "The men there are on the verge of an outbreak," said he, "and I am going there to keep them quiet. If I succeed, there will be no more trouble for ten years. After leaving the coke regions," continued Mr. Trevellick, "I shall go to Montana to settle matters for the silver and copper miners. They are nearly all cornish men and will listen to no tongue which is not Cornish."

Trying to Buy Ball Players.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—President Nimick, of the Pittsburgh base ball team, was here yesterday endeavoring to negotiate for the transfer of Anson, the Chicago first baseman and captain at his town. It is said he offered $15,000 for the player named, and that President Spalding, of the Chicago, demanded $25,000. Mr. Nimick is also anxious to transfer the entire Detroit nine to his town, but local reports are of the opinion his efforts in that direction stand no chance of meeting with success.

Another Canadian Convert.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20.—A writ of attachment is out for the office fixtures of the Cincinnati commercial agency, at Third and Walnut, and W. M. Tugman, the attorney, has filed a petition for a receiver for the concern. It is claimed that P. R. Warman, the founder, manager and leading spirit of the agency, is missing, and that $25,000 of the agency's funds has also disappeared.
Guesses as to Warman's whereabouts indicate Canada by a large majority.

Miners Demand an Advance.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—At a conference of a committee representing 5,000 coal miners and all the operators along the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers yesterday, the miners made a demand for an advance of one-quarter cent per bushel in the mining rate. The operators refused to concede the advance, and the question will be referred to a board of arbitration.

Two Thousand Telegraphers Idle.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Times states that the Western Union Telegraph company yesterday notified over two thousand employees of the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company that their services would not be required after November 1. The old B. & O. rate of fifteen cents for ten words from New York to Chicago was raised to fifty cents.

THURSDAY EVEN'G, OCT. 20, 1887.

SMALL industrial enterprises affording employment of a diversified character will soon make a place prosperous, and it will be a prosperity that is lasting.

THE Republicans of Ohio have a real nice candidate for Governor in the person of "Little Breeches" Foraker. He spoke at Cleveland the other night, and his remarks were so disgusting that many ladies left the hall.

"I WILL talk about these war recollections. They will not hurt the feelings of any man whose heart was in the right place during that bloody struggle. As for the rest, the devil take 'em."

All right, Mr. Foraker. Just keep on talking. The people of the South know just what you think of them. It would be well, however, for you to learn what the people of the whole country think of you.

THERE is a good deal of truth in the following from an exchange: "As a rule the rich men are not those who build up a community and create booms. A single business man full of life and snap and enterprise, who is not afraid to talk and talks sense, and knows how to advertise, is worth any dozen very rich men, who usually take advantage of other people's booming to increase their value."

GOVERNOR BUCKNER has pardoned D. D. Patterson, a member of the State Guard, who deserted while the troops were in Rowan County during the last term of the Circuit Court, and who was afterward tried by Court Martial and sentenced to the county jail at Louisville for ninety days. The judgment against Patterson has been considered as rather heavy all along, and the Governor's action will undoubtedly meet with general approval.

ROBERTSON'S indebtedness at the present time, from figures produced last Tuesday, is about $40,000. And there is still five unfinished turnpikes in the county, drawing as completed $1,350 to the mile. Since 1882 the county has paid for debts $19,000.—Mt. Olivet Democrat.

Forty thousand dollars is a pretty large debt, for Robertson, but it could be easily paid if properly handled. What Robertson and Nicholas both need is a Treasurer, and a good law in regard to their finances. Bourbon County suffered as we are now suffering, but when it secured proper legislation and a County Treasurer, it soon got out of its trouble. In Bourbon County there are over $17,000 in the County Treasury, and when Bourbon wants anything it has the cash to pay for it, and this means a saving of about 25 per cent. In Nicholas everybody understands that they must wait for a year or two years for any money the county may owe, and a high price is asked for everything done for the county. The tax-payers ought to see that this is remedied, as they have the money to pay.—Carlisle Mercury.

In some respect, the Mercury's remarks are applicable to Mason County. In past years it has been a common occurrence for persons to wait all the way from six to eighteen months for claims due from the county. It will prove much cheaper for the county to do business on a cash basis.

Kentucky Distillers.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Distillers' Association in Louisville, Tuesday, a motion requiring the chairman to date the articles of agreement adopted several months ago and deliver the same to the trustee, Mr. Beckwith, was adopted. The articles bind the distillers signing it not to produce any whiskey during the coming distilling season ending July, 1888. A complete list of signers will be forwarded to all the distillers in the United States. The committee claims that 85 per cent. of the producing capacity of the State is now bound by the agreement, and are confident that an advance in the price of whiskey will soon take place as a result of their work.

Pithy Points From Washington.

We have it from a reliable gentleman who lives in Bullitt County, where prohibition is in force, that in the eight years of his residence there he has not seen as many as eight drunken men.

Now the same may be said of Mason County, should prohibition carry here, for the people are no better in Bullitt County than they are here.

All men know that a great part of the taxes go towards the machinery of courts, made necessary for the prosecution of criminals, made such by whiskey. Let the cause be removed and taxes will be lessened.

It is amusing to see how some men squirm when asked to sign the petition. One would suppose they were being asked to go security on a note to the bank, when in reality their names would not be good for fifteen cents, anywhere.

A church member that will not sign the petition must be highly inflated with religion, yet these gentlemen are found in all communities.

Nothing could be plainer or more certain than that, whisky and the liquor traffic are the direct foes to the cause of religion, as well as to all morality.

RECREATION IN CHINA.

But Little Relief from the Monotony of Existence—Decline in Morals.

We once asked a famous collectorist whether he did not regret having devoted his life to such a narrow study. "No," he emphatically replied, "if I could live my life again I would devote it to one family of beetles." A melancholy example of the domination of one idea. Of all civilized peoples the most conspicuously in want of relief from the monotony of their ideas are the Chinese. The Hindus have their frequent poojahs, which make great inroads into their working time; the Mohammedans have their festivals; the Burmese are always gay, and require very little pretext to have a "pooyay," or entertainment; the Manila Indians and Mestizos lead quite a merry life; and the Japanese we know to be the best holiday makers in the world. But when we come to the Chinese we see a plod, plod, plod from year's end to year's end; and with the exception of a day or two's ruinous dissipation on the occasion of a marriage or a funeral, and a little dumb show ceremony at the family grave, the ordinary life of a Chinese appears to foreign eyes as dull as that of a galley slave.

Even the rich are little better off than the poor, owing to the absence of means of recreation and their inability to enjoy those that do or might exist. An official dares not attend a theatre for fear of being denounced and to go for half a day's picnic would expose him to the attacks of the censors. The amusements of these Chinese officials must, therefore, be kept within the privacy of their own walls, and unless they have a strong taste for literature or curio collecting, they must often be tempted to fall back on personal intrigue of various kinds, merely to occupy the vacant chambers of the mind. Is it this that causes high Chinese officials to engage themselves in the pettiest details which in other countries would be relegated to quite subordinate functionaries? The absence of healthy recreation appears to act on the mind as the privation of vegetable diet does on the body; in the one case the defect may be remedied by lime juice; what is the cure for the other?

The aversion to physical exercise, partly innate and partly imposed by the oppressive canons of social etiquette, is perhaps the most morally destructive of all forms of the privation of amusement. Moral health has great difficulty in maintaining itself without frequent and copious draughts from the refreshing springs of nature; and the life that is mewed up between brick walls, in an atmosphere laden with odious effluvia, is of necessity thrown back on its own inner darkness, with what consequences it is easy to imagine. All forms of open air amusement are, therefore, to be considered as boons to the Chinese, and if on the love of gambling, already well developed, could be engrained the love of true sport, it would be a sign of that awakening from the sleep of ages which a celebrated essayist has lately enlarged upon.—Chinese Times.

Watching the Hessian Fly.

LA PORTE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Professor Webster, the government entomologist connected with Purdue university, under whose direction small plants of wheat were sown this fall at intervals of ten days in six different parts of the state for the purpose of ascertaining at what time the Hessian fly will do the least harm, is now on a tour of observation, to learn the result of his experiment. He was at the farm of W. A. Banks in Seipio township, this county, Saturday, and found a good many evidences of the fly. He went from here to Noble county, where there is another experimental station. He hopes that after a series of years of trials and observations, much more will be known about the habits of these flies, and that some remedy for their work will be discovered. His final reports will be awaited with interest by the farmers of this and other states.

An Heiress Murdered.

PONCA, Neb., Oct. 20.—A young lady by the name of Williams died under very mysterious circumstances at the home of a farmer named Searles, near Martinsburg, in this county, Monday. She was sick of typhoid fever and waited upon by Dr. Reager of that place. Upon coming to see her on Monday morning he found her dead and prepared for burial. Blood was issuing from her nostrils and her arms were folded upon her breast. He unloosed them, and upon further investigation, found several bandages around her body near the armpits. These bandages were bloody, and the doctor found an incision an inch long and quite deep under one of the arms. He swore out a warrant and the whole family was arrested. The girl was heiress to several thousand dollars, which upon her death was to belong to the Searles family.

The Presidential Party.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—The gentlemen of the presidential party dined with Governor Gordon last evening. Among the guests invited to meet them were Governor Perry, of Florida; Governor Richardson, of South Carolina; Senators Brown and Colquitt, Gen. Jackson, of Louisville; President Davidson, of the Georgia senate; Speaker Little, of the house of representatives; Gen. Pierce, M. B. Young and Mr. Henry W. Grady. At the same time Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Vilas were entertained at dinner by Mrs. R. H. Porter, some of the first society ladies of Atlanta at the Porter mansion. Later the entire party attended a reception at the Capital City club from 9 till 12 o'clock. From their starting out this morning till midnight the president and wife were the recipients of an ovation.

A Sensation in Court.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—At the opening of the criminal assizes at Brockville yesterday, Judge O'Connor sentenced a well known bad character, George Hoover, to seven years in the penitentiary for larceny. Hoover created a great sensation in court by cursing the judge and spectators, swearing and making a great racket. He asked the judge to send him to the infernal regions, but his lordship replied that he had no wish to do that. Hoover expressed a wish to kill himself there and then.

Jake Sharp's Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—It is announced that Jacob Sharp's lawyer will carry his case up to the supreme court of the United States if the court of appeals decides against him. The main ground for carrying the case will be that the constitution of the United States has been violated in using Sharp's testimony before the senate investigating committee against him when he was tried.

English and American News Gatherers.

The average English reporter trusts far too much to shorthand. When he gets on a large daily, he is apt to become a mere note taking machine, and he is treated and esteemed as such. The result is that when there comes among reporters a man who can write "out of his own head," no use is made of his capacity. The chief reporter simply uses him as a machine, and the man, if he be of any stamina, retaliates by getting himself removed from the reporting staff to some other department. Then when the occasion comes that a reporter is wanted to write original copy he is either not there or he lacks the facility that comes from practice.

The American reporter is different. In many cases he would be unfit to take his "turn in the gallery" or at a large public meeting where the paper sends a corps for a five column verbatim report. His shorthand is shaky and, like David Copperfield's, a puzzle to himself. But he can go to a meeting and write a half narrative and half critical report, containing not only the main facts, but a score of little gossip items and comments that people like to read. He can be told to "go down to the depot and make a column about the new boss"—a command at which the average English reporter would stare helplessly. Finally, he can be requested to go and get some news, and he will go and get it. His English confere never heard such a command, and has no knowledge that anything ever happens save such anticipated events as are daily entered in advance in the chief reporter's engagement book.—Saturday Review.

The Coinage of 1804.

There is something curious about the American silver dollar and half dollars of the coinage of 1804. In that year something like 20,000 of the dollars were coined; but it is a singular fact, as is now known, that not one of them was in circulation. Yet the most valuable of all American coins are two 1804 dollars, which are now in well known collections. They are valued at $2,000 each.—Chicago Herald.

A TOWN IN ASHES.

The Village of Rome, Ohio, Almost Wiped Out of Existence by Fiery Flames.

FIFTEEN BUILDINGS BURNED.

Information was received here yesterday at noon of a disastrous conflagration at Rome, a small village on the Ohio shore about half way between Manchester and Vanceburg. Full particulars of the fire had not been obtained when we went to press, but it is reported that the place was almost entirely destroyed.

From Captain Redden, of the Racket, plying in place of the Handy No. 2, it was learned that the fire was first discovered about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning in a business house belonging to Mr. Metz. The alarm was sounded, and the inhabitants, once awakened from their sound slumbers by the shrill cry of fire, turned out and fought the flames as best they could.

There was no fire engine at hand and none to be had, and the efforts of the citizens to save their property were futile. Most of the town was soon in ashes.

Fifteen buildings were entirely destroyed. In the list were J. Treacey's store and all the buildings owned by George Pettit & Sons.

Pettit & Son's loss is estimated at $7,000. It was not learned whether they were insured or not.

The loss is a heavy one for a place of the size of Rome. The full amount of the damage, however, is not yet known.

THE receipts from the oyster supper given by the ladies of the Episcopal Church last night amounted to about $42.

THE manufactories at Ashland, Ky., give employment to about 2,000 hands, the pay roll in a year amounting to $800,000. One firm gives employment to 1,000 hands.

A NEGRO floater was found in the river this morning near the mouth of Cabin Creek. The body is thought to be that of T. S. Farrow, who was drowned some days ago off the Racket, a short distance above Manchester.

REV. JOSEPH M. EVANS, of this city, preached at Moorefield, Nicholas County, last Sunday, and on that day and the next he succeeded in raising $2,600 to aid in building a new Presbyterian and Methodist Church at that place.

WORK is to be resumed soon on the natural gas well at Flemingsburg. The contractor, under the new arrangement, is to get two dollars a foot for boring through salt water, and one dollar and twenty-five cents a foot from that down to a depth of 2,000 feet.

THE many friends and relatives of Mr. Edward Robertson and Miss Lona Hook will be pleased to hear of the announcement of their approaching marriage. The nuptials will be solemnized at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, Oct. 26th, at Sharon Church, near Augusta.

THE steamer J. H. Hillman lost her wheel, when just below Dover, on her down trip, Monday morning. She managed to get to Augusta, where she lay until the Sam P. Jones came and towed her to Cincinnati. The repairs were completed in time for her to resume her trip yesterday.

AN aged man giving his name as Levi Vaughn was arrested on Cabin Creek this morning and brought to town by Deputy Sheriff Alexander and Deputy Marshal Dawson. He has been wandering about for several days in that locality, and is thought to be a lunatic. He claims he was released not long ago from the Adams County Infirmary.

REV. R. B. GARRETT left yesterday for Louisville to attend the fiftieth anniversary of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists. The celebration takes place to-day. Mr. Garrett will remain over Sunday, and will fill Rev. Fred D. Hale's pulpit Sunday evening. He will endeavor to make arrangements with Mr. Hale to assist in a protracted meeting here some time during the coming winter.

JOHN L. GRIFFIN and E. Blackman, hailing from New York, have been prospecting recently in the alleged "gold fields" up in the vicinity of Petersville, Lewis County, and the Fleming Gazette says the latter was so impressed with the samples of ore that he succeeded, after a time, in buying several hundred acres of the ore land, paying therefor a handsome figure. This land is situated southeast of Petersville, and from it were taken many of the finest samples of ore yet found in that section.

DEATH OF HENRY BRAMEL.

One of Mason County's Prominent Farmers Passes Away After a Lingerin Illness.

Henry Bramel died this morning about 8 o'clock at his home near Washington. He had been afflicted with Bright's disease for the past year or two. For several days his condition has been very serious, and his friends and relatives had realized that his end was near. In his death Mason County suffers the loss of one of her prominent and successful farmers.

The deceased was a native of Maryland, and was in the seventy-seventh year of his age. Although a native of Maryland, most of his life was spent in this county, his father, Samuel Bramel, having removed here when the deceased was about two years of age. Among the farmers of this community it may be said that few were more thrifty and industrious than the deceased, and as a result he amassed a considerable fortune.

In 1839 or 1840, the deceased was united in marriage to Mary Taylor, daughter of Rev. Caleb Taylor, of the Methodist Church. His wife and five children survive him. J. T. Bramel, of the firm of Parker & Bramel, of this city, is the only surviving son. The other children who are left to mourn his death are Mrs. John Power, living near this city; Mrs. J. D. Reese, of Fern Leaf; and Mrs. J. B. Key and Mrs. Thomas Allison, of the Washington precinct. The deceased had three children, all sons, to die in their childhood.

Mr. Bramel was a faithful member of the M. E. Church, South, for years, and his funeral will take place in that church at Washington next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. J. D. Redd officiating. The remains will be interred in the Maysville Cemetery.

THERE will be no preaching in the Presbyterian Church at Mayslick next Sunday.

INFRINGING ON PATENTS

GERMAN MANUFACTURERS OF FIRE ARMS TO BE SUED.

American Patents to Institute Legal Proceedings at Once—Arbitrators Fail to Agree—Sensational Rumor About Katkov's Death—Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—It is very probable that a suit for a large amount of money will be speedily instituted by American holders of patents against several German manufacturers of firearms. For some time past agents of the American patentees have been quietly gathering information in Spandau and Berlin, and claim to have acquired possession of facts of the utmost importance to their employes. Negotiations are pending for a compromise, but it is understood that after a good deal of cabling and many personal interviews between the American representatives and the German manufacturers, their respective estimates as to the amount of damages to be assessed upon the latter differed so widely as to leave little hope that an agreement satisfactory to both parties can be reached.

When it was determined by the German military authorities that the exigencies of the service demanded that the army should be provided with magazine rifles, it was an important question whether the Mauser gun could be altered in an arm of repetition. To make this alteration special machines, delicate, difficult to construct, and requiring skill on the part of their operator, were necessary. Such machines could be obtained only in America, but German pride scouted the idea of being dependent upon a foreign country in a matter so nearly touching the empire's military necessity, and the machinery was made at home, and it is alleged, after the drawings of American patents. Hence the demand for reclamation made by those who legally own the results of American ingenuity in question. Somewhere in the neighborhood of a million and a half rifles were required to be altered and certainly the thrifty Fatherland cannot complain of the price charged by the works at Suhl for performing the service, the contract amount being about $5.45 per gun.

It is noteworthy also that France has invested largely in American machinery for the same purpose, but has done so legitimately, either confessing tacitly that she could not rival Yankee ingenuity, or not caring to follow the example of Germany and infringe upon recognized rights. It is a question, however, whether Germany has saved much by preferring to rely upon the skill of her own artisans in altering her small arms. Either the Mauser rifle has inherent defects, or German mechanics have failed to make of it as good an arm as was hoped, through their imperfect knowledge of the machinery, for although several officers of the Second army corps report favorably of its action, experts among the Wurtemberg troops who have given it a thorough trial state that the magazine fails to act after the sixth or seventh discharge, necessitating the withdrawal of the remaining cartridges, and thereby incurring a vexatious delay which might have a serious result in battle. The landwehr has not been exercised with the new arm, but is furnished only with the model of 1871.

How Katkov Died.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Chronicle learns that the late M. Katkov and Gen. Boulanger were in close communication. The former is even said to have promised to aid Gen. Boulanger to launch himself as dictator. Katkov, who employed Gen. Bogdanovich as an intermediary, advised Boulanger to pay scant attention to the Russian and German embassies, but to push on in the direction of war. Gen. Schweinitz, the German ambassador at St. Petersburg, managed to intercept Katkov's letter, and conveyed it to Emperor William. The emperor complained to the czar, who became greatly incensed when he heard of the affair, and declared that he would never admit Katkov to his presence again. The disgrace hastened Katkov's death.

The Mob of Trafalgar Square.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The mob which gathered in Hyde Park to-day sallied forth into the streets and, followed by the police, paraded the west end. When the rioters reached Berkeley square the police charged upon them and scattered their ranks temporarily, but forming again they marched on. At Piccadilly there was another collision between the mob and the police, and a sharp fight ensued. Several of the crowd were injured and many arrests were made. Some shops in the disturbed districts were closed to-day through fear of the rioters.

In Honor of the Crown Prince.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—All public and many private buildings were decked with flags yesterday in honor of Crown Prince Frederick William's birthday. Enormous crowds gathered at the palace to sign the congratulatory list. The King and Queen of Italy sent an affectionate telegram to the crown prince.
